On Friday 4 March 2022 the Blue / Yellow No War exhibition opens at Project Space Rome with the works of Ali Assaf, Paolo Bielli, Lucia Crisci, Enrico Borghini, Tommaso Franchi, Susanne Kessler, Andrea Lanini, Elly Nagaoka, Annegret Soltau, Sara Spizzichino, curated by Susanne Kessler: an invitation that Susanne addressed to various artists of different origins to say, forcefully, NO to war.

“Let us artists unite peoples, invite us to areas of crisis, let us with our colleagues from all over the world, discuss and become brothers and sisters. Or let people attack us and get rid of their anger, we are used to it and no longer blame anyone for it. We think: “Yes, maybe there is some truth in it,,,” and we continue to work and, if the vision doesn’t come out, it ends up in the wastepaper basket, and without problems and we start over. Many mistakes made by an artist simply end up in the trash.

On other continents you build differently, you write differently, you make music differently and all these things make the world more round and more understandable for each of us, bring people closer, allow meaning seekers to find and understand. We get closer, we change, we move away again: our existence swings back and forth, inspired by the other and never blocked and stagnant in a stubborn imposing.

We don’t want to join in the funeral hymn of soldiers drifting towards death, trampling the delicate plants in their path. Both fathers and mothers want to accompany the growth and development of their children. The young man wants to use his talents and grow, the elderly want to look at the new young life and at some point say goodbye serenely.

We artists say yes to life, to all its forms and diversities.” (Susanne Kessler)
